PERSONAL SUMMARY

I am a passionate student eager to learn and develop professional and personal. Since I was a child, I knew "computers" are my target in this life and I will not stop until I accomplish my dream. I consider myself as a team player, able to work under pressure, but I take pride in my communication skills as I believe is a crucial element in any team to achieve goals and success. Beyond the professional and academic development, I am a friendly person happy to work with new people and keeping a positive attitude. In future, I aspire to achieve the best version of myself and learn new skills in front-end developing and explore more about the back-end coding but on the personal plan would love to travel the world.
